Adiam condimentum dolor set ahmet

The serenely elegant Spa Itzá is located in a secluded garden in the "Calle Corazon" district of Playa del Carmen. Guests begin their spa journey by entering a tunnel-like threshold and crossing a shallow candle-lighted pool via a symbolic stone and wood bridge. The centerpiece of the lush garden is a stone sculpture inspired by the Temple of The Sun in the Mayan ruins of Chichén Itzá.

Spa Itzá is the only spa in the region that harvests natural botanicals from the jungle according to the ancient proscribed techniques of the Mayans, taking great care not to deplete the natural resources. The Spa's treatment regime pays homage to the native Mayans who were early advocates of the healing powers of water,
